Hiring Manager
[Company Name]

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to apply for a Junior UX/UI Designer position. I began exploring UX/UI design in 2024 and quickly became interested in how thoughtful design can improve the way people interact with digital products. Since then, I have been developing my skills through hands-on projects, learning the full design process, including research, wireframing, prototyping, and usability testing.

I am especially interested in opportunities where I can continue learning while working alongside people who care about thoughtful digital design just like me. UX/UI is a constantly evolving field, especially as new technologies like AI begin to influence the design process, so I'm motivated to keep expanding my skills, exploring new tools, and growing as a designer. I would truly value the opportunity to contribute to your team at [Company Name] while continuing to develop as a junior designer!

Thank you very much for your time and consideration. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,
Anna Diadiushkina
